SCG INTERNATIONAL HIRES ANDREW BLONG
AS VICE PRESIDENT OF FINANCE

Leading security and risk management company brings industry executive on-board to lead finance, investment and business management efforts

VIRGINIA BEACH, VA, July 29, 2009 – SCG International, a U.S.-based global provider of fully integrated, domestic and international security services, today announced it has hired Andrew Blong as its vice president of finance.

Blong will report directly to SCG CEO Jamie Smith and be responsible for all financial operations of the Company, management of assets and financial interests, oversight of financial reporting and tax accounting, profitability, investment strategy and assessment of acquisitions.

“Andrew has extensive experience in successfully managing the finances of a worldwide security services company, and understands the unique set of challenges we face on a daily basis,” said Jamie Smith, CEO of SCG International. “His management skills, financial acumen and global perspective will be invaluable to us and our clients.”

Blong was previously vice president of finance and investment at Blackwater Worldwide, where he oversaw a variety of financial, investment and corporate strategy initiatives. He received an MBA from The George Washington University. Blong also has specific experience with international finance, particularly in the Middle East.
