

High Threat Protective Operations- THE BLACK OPTION

There are some Principals (VIPs) that you can't protect using "Bremmer" techniques. Protecting intelligence officers conducting clandestine meetings, protecting officers in conflict locations in semi / non-permissive environments require something more, something different.

Providing this type of protection calls for an understanding of operating small, low-signature, yet highly effective and efficient protective security details (PSD).

SCG's staff pioneered the first outsourced security detail for US Intelligence Officers across Southwest Asia. The skills and techniques have transformed low-profile/high threat protective operations.

If your team is tasked with this mission contact the people that started it all.
